Steve Carter endorses Greg Zoeller at Schereville Panera Bread!

My anonymous commenter was correct.

I know people want me to get on the Costas bandwagon. I don't think that I can do it. Nothing against Costas. I just think that Zoeller is a safer bet to continue Carter's anti-corruption initiatives.

My understanding is that Zoeller is the brains behind all of Carter's initiatives.

My understanding is that Costas is being backed by some of the elements with ties to Ed Cantrell. Law firms and whatnot.

Buzz,

I ran Jon's campaign in 2003 and have worked with him for the last 9 years. I have no idea who Ed Cantrell is.

The only people I've learned to be involved with Jon's campaign for AG are the Governor and a slew of county chairs that Mayor Costas asked personally to support him.

Jon did work years ago for Barnes and Thornburg and had the chance to work with then Mayor Stephen Goldsmith, but I don't believe that Goldsmith is around these parts any longer.

on everybody, and I had a brief conversation with him regarding Costas, which is where this blog post came from.

I've got to sit down with him and get a better accounting of the dirt.

Cantrell is the former Lake County GOP chairman. Left office in a scandal, was accused of taking kickbacks from Democrats. Daughter is Democrat Judge Julie Cantrell, the one who likes to let illegal immigrants off of DUI charges.

Hey Buzz,

I too worked with Jon on his 2003 campaign. I'd highly recommend that you try and get in touch with him. He's been great for Valpo, NW Indiana and won't back down on tough issues. I'd be very surprise that he wouldn't carry on many of the wonderful works that Carter has done. One of Jon's strongest assets is his ability to listen. He was given a Valpo that was in financial disarray and has turned it around. He has wonderful support that is all above board. He woun'dn't stand for anything less.
